About Catholic Charities

Catholic Charities is the social service agency of the Archdiocese of Atlanta, who partners with the community to help people facing adversity to reach wholeness and self sufficiency regardless of their background or religion. Catholic Charities is among the state's well-known, professional providers of services to families in crisis, support for pregnant women, assistance and education to immigrants and refugees. Last year Catholic Charities placed 19 babies in loving adoptive homes and provided more than 300 low-income families with infant seats, cribs, high chairs and other baby supplies. More than 2000 persons received mental health counseling. More than 7000 families were served in 2007. The agency was a major provider in a statewide collaboration to serve thousands of Hurricane Katrina and Rita families who fled to Georgia, providing housing, counseling, and job placement services.
