Volunteer tutors are matched with third grade students, refugee children in the United States for less than one year. We seek a volunteer commitment of one afternoon per week during the semester. Activities and targeted skill practices are provided by staff for the time you spend with the students.

- Gain a sense of fulfillment by helping newly arrived refugee children achieve their educational goals.
- Engage with refugee children who are new to the country and who have limited English proficiency.
- Assist students to adjust to their new environment and school to increase self-esteem.
